

Code of Practice 6.79

‘The governing bodies of maintained schools and maintained nursery schools and the proprietors of academy schools have a legal duty to publish information on their websites about the implementation of the governing body’s or the proprietor’s policy for pupils with SEN. The information published must be updated annually and any changes to the information occurring during the year must be updated as soon as possible. The information required is set out in the draft Special Educational Needs (Information) Regulations and reflects the information required for the local offer’.

Schools should ensure that the information is easily accessible by parents and is set out in clear, straightforward language. This should include information on the school’s SEN policy, named contacts within the school where parents have concerns and details of the school’s contribution to the local offer.

In setting out details of the broad and balanced curriculum provided in each year, schools should include details of how the curriculum is adapted or made accessible for pupils with SEN.

1 What kinds of SEN are provided for in your school?

We are a very inclusive school and cater for a wide range of needs. These will fall under the four broad categories from the code of practice 2014 Communication and Interaction (includes Autism), cognition and learning (includes dyslexia and dyscalculia), sensory and/ or physical needs (includes hearing and vision) and Social, Emotional and Mental Health (includes ADHD and ADD).

We will always endeavour to meet your child's needs.

2 What policies do you have for identifying children and young people with SEN? How do you assess their needs? What is the SENCo's name and how can I contact them?

All mainstream schools have a Special Educational Needs Co-ordinator (SENCo). Our SENCo is Joanna Aston who can be contacted on the school office 01757 703650. They, along with your child's class teacher, will be able to discuss your child's needs with you, the support for learning that we are providing to meet their needs, and what expectations we have for your child's progress. This will include explaining to you where your child is in their learning and the targets we have set for your child. You and your child will be asked for your views on these targets. You will be informed about the progress your child is making in line with national expectations. If you are not sure what these mean, don't be afraid to ask. If you have a concern about your child this should be raised in the first instance to the class teacher, they will then discuss these concerns with the SENCo and it is then monitored. The leader for SEN will arrange a meeting if this is appropriate with parents/carers. The SEN list is updated termly by the class teachers and the SENCo. All children with a diagnosis of SEN and also children who are significantly behind the national average will be placed on the list and be receiving SEN support and will have an Individual Provision Map which will be produced in partnership by the class teacher, SENCo, parents/carers and child where appropriate. Also children who are not progressing will be placed on the list. Vulnerable children are identified and monitored during termly meetings.

3 What arrangements do you have for consulting with parents of children with SEN and involving them in their child's education?

The SENCo will send regular emails 'checking' in with parents/carers and keeping them informed of any updates in terms of outside agency involvement and will arrange meetings when necessary. We have parents evening during the Autumn and Spring term where you will be able to find out about what your child is doing and how they are progressing to their targets. The school also operates an open door policy whereby parents can pop in to speak to the class teacher- if they are not available then a meeting can be arranged. Formal assessments take place on a termly basis but if staff are concerned between these times they will speak to parents/carers or parents can speak to staff if they feel worried or concerned about their child's progress. Termly review meetings take place for all children on SEN support, statemented or with an Educational, health and care plan. Home school books are used when it is beneficial and information is often added to reading record books. Individual Provision Maps are reviewed and updated on a termly basis. All pupils with SEND should make at least expected progress, in line with their peers.

4. What arrangements do you have in place in your school to consult with young people with SEN and how do you involve them in their education?

We use growing up in North Yorkshire every two years. SEN Children are represented across the school in varying situations for example school council, after school clubs and the SENCo speaks to pupils regularly when monitoring SEN provision.

5. What arrangements are in place for assessing and reviewing children and young people's progress towards outcomes. Please can you explain what opportunities are available to enable you to work with parents and young people as part of this assessment and review

All children are assessed on a regular basis. All children should make expected progress. Parents will be informed of assessments and interventions at the termly review meeting. All children on SEN support will have an Individual Provision Map and a record of intervention sheet which is filled in by the adult working with the child, recording the date and activity completed to ensure the child is reaching their targets set.

6. What are the arrangements for supporting children and young people in moving between phases of education and in preparing for adulthood? How do you ensure that as young people prepare for adulthood the desirable outcomes reflect their ambitions, which could include higher education, employment, independent living and participation in society

We have strong links with all secondary schools in the area. There is a transition day for all Year 6's. Additional visits may be set up, High Schools are invited to Annual Reviews in Year 5 and Year 6, and the children's files are photocopied and sent up to the High School. If your child is transferring to our school we will contact the previous school for information, attend review meetings, set up transition day visits and make a book about our school (if this is appropriate). If your child is leaving our school we will contact the new school with any relevant information and then photocopy all files to send on. The originals will be kept in school in accordance to statutory guidance.

7. What is you School's approach to teaching children and young people with SEN?

High quality support for learning within mainstream lessons is the most important factor in helping pupils with SEND to make good progress alongside their peers. Teaching assistants are deployed where the need is and this can be done on a lesson basis in order to respond flexibly and swiftly to need. If a specific allocated time is given to a child then parents will be informed. This may be in the form of in class support or interventions run outside of the Maths and Literacy lessons. Class provision maps in school shows some of the things we can offer to children with specific needs. Governors will question about the provisions and the impact the interventions are having on the children. Time is allocated in the governors meeting to discuss SEND in school. For a very few children more help will be needed than is normally available through the school's own resources. Schools, parents and other agencies may decide that it is necessary to request a statutory assessment through the local authority. We can talk to you about this in more detail. Where we feel that something additional or different is needed to support your child because they have SEND we will discuss this carefully with you. This information may well be recorded in a document for you and your child, known as an individual provision map. This will include: details of any strategies being used to support your child in class; details of any extra support or interventions for your child; your child's learning targets; the next date when your child's progress will be reviewed. If your child is not making progress and the gap between them and their peers is widening then your child would take part in an intervention either in a 1:1 situation or in a small group to address the need of your child. If they are still not making progress in class support by a Teaching Assistant may be deployed if this is thought to be beneficial. This is by no means always the case. Most importantly, this support should be aiming to make your child more independent in lessons.

This decision will be made by the SENCO and head teacher. More long term class support would be discussed in review meetings and through structured conversation. We use a range of interventions to support pupils with SEND to make better progress. Interventions are structured learning programmes. We can explain to you:- what interventions your child is receiving and what are the intended learning outcomes; when during the week any interventions will be delivered and for how many weeks; who will be delivering the interventions (usually a well-trained teaching assistant) and where (e.g. in class or outside the classroom) how the interventions will relate to and support learning in the classroom; how they will be monitored closely to make sure they are helping your child to make accelerated progress.

8. What sort of adaptations are made to the curriculum and the learning environment of children and young people with SEN?

The school has a whole school provision map which details strategies and adaptations to the curriculum for a variety of needs. We have a large disabled toilet. All classrooms have blinds and carpets. We have a clear action plan in place in linked with the school development plan and the Equality scheme.

9. What sort of expertise for supporting children and young people with SEN do you currently have in school? How do you ensure that the expertise and training of staff to support children and young people with SEN is current? How do you access and secure further specialist expertise?

All staff are trained on a range of needs. An audit is done to see where the training needs are. This is a mixture of in school training and external training. As a school we may need specialist support for your child. If we feel that the involvement of another agency would be beneficial to help with your child's needs you will be informed and asked to give your consent.

10. How do you evaluate the effectiveness of the provision made for children and young people with SEN?

All classes deliver quality first teaching which is regularly observed. We use the graduated approach to support our children- Assess, Plan, Do, Review. If your child is not making the expected progress an intervention may be required this will be done through the graduated approach. Your child will be assessed to see where their strengths and weaknesses are, an evidence based intervention (EBI) will be chosen or a carefully planned programme will be put together, the intervention will be delivered for a set period of time on a regular basis and then they will be reviewed at the end of this period. If at the end of an intervention your child has not made progress they will be placed on the SEN list and outside agencies may be contacted to seek advice and support.

11. How are children and young people with SEN enabled to engage in activities available with children and young people in the school who do not have SEN?

All children have access to all activities both in school and out. For a school trip a pre-visit will happen, a risk assessment will be done and adaptations will be put in place. Adaptations previously put in place include parents accompanying the child, transport by car due to not being able to get on a coach and daily time on websites looking at the place the child is going to ensure familiarity. Parents will be consulted by the class teacher regarding any difficulties we may encounter. We will always go the extra mile to ensure every child can access a school trip.

12. How do you support children and young people with SEN to improve their emotional and social development? Please explain the extra pastoral support arrangements for listening to the views of children and young people with SEN and measures to prevent bullying.

We are very concerned with a child's overall wellbeing. Many North Yorkshire schools have used the Inclusion Quality Mark (IQM) to evaluate how successfully they include all learners, including those with SEND. The IQM allows schools to show how they are benefiting different groups of learners, and how their outcomes are improving as a result of their work. Training is given to staff for medical needs when they arise for example epi pens. We have a personal hygiene policy and staff will change nappies where necessary. We have Teaching Assistant who is allocated time to work with children who need emotional and social support. Children will be able to speak to the Teaching Assistant about anything that may be worrying them. The Teaching Assistant runs Nurture groups to support the children in this area. They work with a range of learners, but give priority to those who need the most help, especially those experiencing multiple disadvantages. The variety of issues covered is vast, ranging from punctuality, family break up's, specific learning difficulties such as dyslexia, absence and challenging behaviour. Behaviour in school is carefully monitored strategies include social groups; inclusion team; time out; liaison with parents and phone calls/ texts home.

13. How does the School involve other bodies, including health and social care bodies, local authority support services and voluntary sector organisations, in meeting children and young people's SEN and supporting their families?

Within school we can make referrals to the Enhanced Mainstream schools which provide both in reach and outreach support. These are Behaviour, emotional and social difficulties- Barwic Parade; Cognition and Learning- Sherburn High and communication and interaction- Thorpe Willoughby, Severe Learning difficulties based at Springwater and the educational psychologist. This is done through the single point of access. We can also make referrals to, Minority Ethnic achievement based at Selby CP school, speech and language, social care, CAMH's, and SENDIASS (Special Educational Needs and/or disabilities Independent Advice Service). We also work in close partnership with physiotherapy, occupational therapy, school nurse, hearing and vision teams. SENDIASS will offer information and support to families of students with SEND up to the age of 25 years whether or not they have a statement or EHC Plan. For further information contact 01609 536923. They may also be able to put you in touch with other organisations or parent support groups. Support will be accessed from the virtual school for support of children who are looked after by the local authority. See the Pupil premium report for a breakdown of spending to support children in receipt of this funding.

14. What are the arrangements for handling complaints from parents of children with SEN about the provision made at the school.

If you have a complaint please speak to the class teacher in the first instance and if this is not resolved speak to SENCO or the Head teacher. If it still cannot be resolved please follow the schools complaints procedure (available on the school website).
